

Second vote on issue possible

Election board eyes mayor form petitions

It appears that for the second time in two years, Washington C.H. residents will vote on a mayor form of city government.

David R. Roe, 437 Circle Ave., filed petitions with the Fayette County Board of Elections September 1 calling for a vote on the federal plan of city government, a mayor-council form.

The board of elections will meet at noon Wednesday to determine whether or not the signatures are sufficient to bring the issue to a popular vote. The petitions contain 395 signatures, 303 valid signatures are needed.

Washington C.H. City Council was informed of the filing of the petitions as soon as they were turned in at the board of elections office. City Council must set the date of the "special" election.

The date must be not less than 60 days nor more than 90 days from the filing date. Thus, if City Council so desires it may schedule the special election on the day of the general election, November 2.

If the petitions are certified Wednesday, Council must set a date for the election by October 1.

Seven separate petitions were filed on the issue. They were available for public signing the date of the Citizens Defense Fund jamboree June 20. Many of the signatures were obtained that day at the Mahan Building.

The petitions were circulated by Paul Hurler, 629 E. Paint St.; Harold Kingery of Jeffersonville; Joanne Allen of 401 E. Elm St.; Louise McClung, 546 Comfort Lane; and Fay J. Washburn, 716 S. North St. Hurler circulated two of the petitions.

SIMILAR petitions brought the issue to a vote in June of 1975, but voters elected to continue the present manager-council form of government by a 292-vote margin. When the same issue was voted upon in 1966, the council-manager form enjoyed a two-to-one vote from city residents.

The current filing was spearheaded by Mrs. Allen and other opponents of the city income tax. The petitions began circulating in earnest during the jamboree to raise money for five persons arrested for alleged election law violations when they obtained signatures opposing the income tax.

The charges against four of those individuals were eventually dismissed. The fifth person pleaded guilty to the charge of falsely attesting to signatures on his petition.

The federal plan sought by the petitions is little used in Ohio. Although mayor-council forms of government are common, the federal plan has several provisions which make it quite different from other mayor-council forms. Only three cities in Ohio are known to operate under the federal plan of city government.

All mayor forms are designed to give considerable power to the mayor himself. He has a right to veto any measure passed by council, and a three-fourths majority of council members is required to override a mayor's veto.

Election of council members by wards or at-large is a separate issue which accompanies the vote on the form of government. If enacted the federal plan could operate with council members elected either way.

Recall of council members is also a separate issue, and may be included or deleted from the federal plan.

At Wednesday's meeting

Council expected to fill vacancy

During a secret executive meeting held sometime since the last public session, Washington C.H. City Council members have chosen an appointee to fill a vacancy on the body. However, they will not announce the name until Wednesday's meeting.

City Council will convene in regular session at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Fraternal Order of Police building, 470 N. Fayette St.

Several other items of importance will appear on the evening's agenda. An ordinance regulating the number of yard sales which Washington C.H. residents can hold is scheduled for introduction.

The ordinance to be presented would restrict residence to one yard sale per year and would require a permit to be obtained from the city prior to conducting such a sale. The suggested fee is $2 for a permit.

An ordinance repealing Ordinance No. 61-74 is also scheduled for introduction. The ordinance to be repealed deals with salaries of public employees, including overtime.

Discussions as to how this may effect the overtime pay of firemen and police officers is expected.

A third ordinance modifying the city code restrictions on operation of bowling alley within the city limits. The new regulations would presumably open the door for construction of a bowling alley on Commercial Avenue near the Washington Square Shopping Center.

Ordinary taxpayers given break

Tax measure hammered out

By JIM LUTHER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ordinary taxpayers are winning more benefits than they are losing as a Senate-House panel puts together a compromise tax-revision bill.

The final score may be known late this week, when members of the conference committee expect to finish the bill and send it to the House and Senate for one last vote.

Most issues concerning individual taxpayers were settled during the first seven days of the conference. Chief among these is a $15-billion-a-year tax-cut extension through Dec. 31, 1977.

Provisions generally affecting only taxpayers who earn more than $50,000 a year are the major points of contention remaining between the House and Senate conferees. There is some risk that if taxes on the rich are raised too sharply, the final bill could be in trouble in the Senate. But if too many tax shelters are left untouched, the measure could face rough going in the House.

Meanwhile, President Ford issued a statement Monday calling on Congress to approve a tax bill that meets the needs of all Americans.

"Unfortunately, Congress has become ensnared in rewriting of detailed provisions of the tax code and has failed to recognize the broad interests of the country," Ford asserted.

Here is a summary of the conference committee's work.

PENDING
CHILD CARE — An expanded tax credit for child-care expenses is assured since such a provision was passed in both the House and Senate bills. The only question is how much bigger the credit will be.

The House and Senate bills agree that the current childcare deduction should be replaced with a tax credit, which will benefit even those families that do not itemize deductions.

The maximum credit — subtracted directly from taxes owed — would be $400 a year for the care of one child and $800 for two or more. The credit would apply even if one or both parents work only parttime.

SICK PAY — The House wants to eliminate the current law that allows tax-free treatment of up to $100 a week that is paid a sick worker by the employer, and replace it with a tax exemption of up to $5,200 a year for permanently and totally disabled retirees under age 65.

The Senate bill would keep sick pay for workers making $15,000 or less but phase it down between $15,000 and $20,000 and eliminate it above $20,000 income.

SIMPLIFICATION — To make taxpaying seem a little less complicated for 90 per cent of Americans, the bill would sharply reduce the number of tax-rate schedules and replace them with new tables that could be used by anyone with a taxable income up to $20,000.

RETIREMENT CREDIT — This highly complex provision would be replaced by a credit that would allow a person over 65 to subtract from taxes owed 15 per cent of the first $2,500 of annual income of any type. For a couple, the credit would be 15 per cent of up to $3,750.

BUSINESS IN HOME — The bill would make it more difficult for a person to reduce taxes by deducting a portion of the cost of maintaining a home on grounds it is sometime used in earning income.

Generally, the deduction would be available only if that portion of the home is used regularly and exclusively for business. An employee could get the benefit only if he uses his home for the convenience of his boss.

SALE OF HOME — A person 65 or older could exempt from taxes the first $35,000 of the selling price when he sells his home. The current tax-free limit is $20,000.

LEGAL SERVICES — Just as employers' current contributions to group medical-insurance plans are tax exempt as far as the employee is concerned, the bill would exempt payments to buy group legal service plans for workers.

REJECTED

TUITION — A Senate plan to allow an eventual tax credit of $250 a year for each student enrolled in college or vocational school was jettisoned at insistence of House conferees. Consideration of the $1.1-billion-a-year plan was promised for later this year, but prospects are doubtful.

ENERGY — Senate provisions aimed at helping Americans save energy were stripped off and later consideration was promised. The key provision would have allowed a credit of up to $225 for purchase of home insulation and storm windows.

GARDENING — A House-approved credit of up to $7 per family for purchase of garden tools was rejected.

PURE PLEASURE — This kitten is enjoying milk from a baby doll's bottle after it and two sisters were left homeless when a car killed their mother in Miami, Fla. Neighbors adopted the homeless kittens.

Candidates continue search for votes

By The Associated Press

With the presidential election two months from today, Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter is out stumping through the East for votes while President Ford, emphasizing his incumbency, is keeping a high profile in the White House.

Carter opened his battle Monday with a sharp attack on Ford, labeling him a latter-day Herbert Hoover and blaming the Republican party for a myriad of economic woes that Carter claims the Democrats will cure.

Ford stayed in the White House, bypassing the traditional Labor Day campaign start to take care of business, chide Congress for not completing work on a major tax-revision bill, give a television interview and prepare for his own campaign start next week.

While Carter continues a five-day whirlwind opening tour that carries him today from New York to Connecticut to Philadelphia, Ford plans more distinctly presidential activities today, including ceremonies at which he will sign bills providing aid for child day-care centers and for victims of the recent Teton Dam disaster in Idaho.

Ford let surrogates, including Sen. Bob Dole, the GOP vice presidential nominee, carry his banner and answer the criticisms Carter levied Monday on the front steps of Franklin D. Roosevelt's "Little White House" in Warm Springs, Ga.

Dole crossed paths with Carter later Monday at a stock car race in Darlington, S.C.

Carter's running mate, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, spoke Monday at labor rallies in Ohio and California. He charged in a Barberton, Ohio, address that Ford's economic policies have "betrayed" U.S. workers.

Carter, speaking from a podium bearing Roosevelt's portrait, said, "This year, as in 1932, our nation is divided, our people are out of work and our national leaders do not lead."

He recalled that in 1932, with the nation struggling in the grip of the Depression, Roosevelt defeated the incumbent Hoover. Carter described Hoover as "a decent and well-intentioned man who sincerely believed that our government could not or should not with bold action attack the terrible economic and social ills of our nation. He was leading a Republican party which lacked the strength and vision to bring us out of those dark days."

But Carter also promised to fight inflation and balance the U.S. budget. Carter assailed the Nixon and Ford administrations for budget deficits, inflation and unemployment. Later, in a Norfolk, Va., appearance he charged that "we have a quiet, dormant, timid leadership in Washington, closely tied to special interests."

In Washington, a spokesman for Ford's election committee, William I. Greener, later challenged Carter's statements about the economy and his capsule history of the Roosevelt era. Greener said:

"There isn't a serious economist in America today who would credit the elimination of unemployment during the Roosevelt administration to anything but the global holocaust of World War II."

"President Ford is bringing this nation economic stability, drastically reduced inflation and a lowered unemployment rate through peaceful means."

Ford said in an interview with ABC News on Monday that a victory at the polls on Nov. 2 would strengthen his hand in dealing with the nation's problems.

"Being elected, getting a mandate ... would give me greater impact with Congress, more ability to move ahead," said Ford, who became president in August 1974 when the Watergate scandals forced Richard M. Nixon to resign.

Dole and Carter shook hands when they crossed paths at a stock car race in Darlington, but Carter spokesman Jody Powell said his candidate almost canceled his appearance when he learned Dole was going to be there.

Powell said Carter kept his commitment to attend the race only after finding out that Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., had pressured the race organizers to invite Dole.

Powell accused Dole of exhibiting "bad manners and bad taste" for showing up at the race. Carter later declined to adopt Powell's language.

Bond issue needs seen

School enrollment in state declines

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — School bond issue requests are expected to go up this year as enrollments drop in the state.

The state education department forecasts continuing enrollment declines in the cities, although Ohio's school enrollment is the fourth largest in the nation.

Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton, Toledo and eight other cities, which educate nearly a fourth of the public school students, accounted for half the total state pupil reduction of 32,001 last year. Cuyahoga County expects a 3.3 per cent drop from last September's student load of 372,438, continuing a four-year decline.

Dr. Martin Essex, state superintendent of public instruction, thinks the declines will lead to more school bond issues. "It appears highly probable that the largest number of property tax issues will be on ballots since the income tax was passed in 1971," he said.

While the news looks gloomy for taxpayers, parents could have fewer worries about teacher strikes interrupting their children's education. As the school year begins, the threat of strikes appears less than last year, but there are some rumblings.

At least seven Dayton area schools began the year with labor disputes. The most serious situation appeared to be in Trotwood-Madison City, Wayne Local and Mad River schools, with total enrollment of more than 21,000.

Negotiators in some Cleveland area reached tentative agreement on a new contract this month.

But the 1,100 members of the Parma Education Association authorized a strike for the start of school today.

Don Schaub of the Ohio Education Association said there had been little strike noise as schools opened. "We had a lot of districts complete bargaining over the summer, and a lot will be bargaining when school starts."

Bus drivers, janitors, cafeteria workers and secretaries struck the Bellaire schools Aug. 30. The 62 union members in the 3,000-student district were seeking a 50-cent hourly pay raise.

Essex blames the student loss on people moving from inner cities to suburbs and older families with grown children remaining in the cities.

"As America becomes more affluent, the movement to the suburbs is an upward movement and, hence, there is a declining population in the large cities," he said.

Attendance sets fair record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — There were complaints of sagging attendance but when it was all over, officials announced the 1976 Ohio State Fair broke the all-time record with 2,294,702 persons passing through the gates during the 12-day extravaganza.

The previous fair attendance record was set last year when 2,281,987 persons visited the fairgrounds. Although Labor Day generally is the slowest day, 155,290 persons attended the final day of festivities, compared with 124,503 in 1975.

Attempting to improve attendance next year and take advantage of summer weather, officials decided Monday to move back the date of the 1977 Ohio State Fair and lengthen it from 12 to 13 days.

Following a meeting of the Ohio Expositions Commission, chairman Don Woods announced the fair would open 10 days earlier — on Aug. 16 — and run through Aug. 28. Woods said the earlier dates will provide an opportunity for young school students to see and participate in the event.

The fair ended its 123rd run Monday, under clear skies, in contrast to the rain that marred opening day Aug. 26.

Attendance was down from last year by nearly 18,000 through Sunday. But fair officials hoped good weather Labor Day — usually the slowest day at the exhibition — and the first state championship demolition derby would improve the head count.

Another effort to improve sagging attendance was scheduling two shows Monday by singer Neil Sedaka. Previously only one grandstand show has been held on Labor Day.

Gov. James A. Rhodes was on hand to seal a Fair time capsule to be opened in 50 years. The Bicentennial capsule contains information and materials of the Fair and state.

Included in it are U.S., state and Bicentennial flags, T-shirts and jeans representing 1976 dress, sports memorabilia from Cincinnati and Cleveland professional baseball and football teams, old and new telephones, coins and stamps, and information on transportation, solar energy and agriculture in 1976.

Other events on the final day included a quarter horse show, holstein show and sheep showmanship contest.

but he noted that his own invitation to the race was long-standing.

Dole made appearances two weeks ago on Carter's heels in Seattle and Des Moines, Iowa.

Dole said at a rally in Florence, S.C., that "we take the South seriously. We want the Southern vote."

He also again denied a report that a former Gulf Oil Corp. lobbyist gave a former Dole aide an illegal campaign contribution in 1973.

Dole released a financial statement showing that he and his wife paid $28,000 in federal income taxes last year on combined income of nearly $108,000. Their net worth was listed as more than $760,000.

Elizabeth Dole has taken a leave of absence from her post as a member of the Federal Trade Commission for the campaign.

While Dole and Carter were watching the stock car race, Mondale was riding in an antique car in a Labor Day parade through Barborton, Ohio, a rubber industry town near Akron that is a bastion of the Democratic party.

Mondale ripped into the Ford administration and the GOP, declaring that "when recession loomed in 1974, they proposed a tax increase when a cut was needed. We want leadership that cares about the human cost of economic mismanagement. We want leadership which will plan for steady growth toward full employment."

Independent presidential candidate Eugene McCarthy has denounced plans to include only the presidential candidates of the two major parties in forthcoming televised debates.

In a five-minute speech prepared as a paid political broadcast on NBC-TV tonight, McCarthy charged:

"I can anticipate a time when Democrats and Republicans will be the only ones allowed even to vote in presidential elections, with independents effectively excluded. This is not altogether different from the practice in Communist countries where the members of the party pick the candidates, lay out the platform, and then allow the rest of the people to approve what they have done."

In other developments, primaries are being held today in Arizona, Florida, North Dakota and Connecticut.

Shoppers still buy by name brand

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

Americans are paying more attention to what goes into the food they eat these days, but supermarket shoppers still look for price and brand name before they check for ingredients or nutritional value.

That's one of the findings of a report by the consumer studies division of the Food and Drug Administration, which surveyed people in 1973 and again in 1975 to try to find out how much consumers know about food and nutrition. Among the questions in the recently-released report was one asking people what they paid attention to when shopping for food.

Price was the item named most often. Almost three-fourths of those surveyed both in 1973 and 1975 said they looked at the cost of the item.

Brand name was second on the list, but it apparently is declining in importance. Fifty-eight per cent of those surveyed in 1973 and 54 per cent of those checked in 1975 said they paid attention to the brand name of a product.

The biggest change was in the number of people looking for some kind of date on the package — indicating either when the product was made or by when it should be used. Fifty-nine per cent of those questioned in 1975 said they paid attention to the date of manufacture or expiration, an increase of 16 percentage points from 1973.

Interest in nutritional value also increased. Only 27 per cent of those checked in 1973 said they looked for the Little girl believed starving dog's victim

NEW YORK (AP) — A mother who left her five-day-old daughter alone with a starving German Shepherd while she went to get money for food returned to find the baby dead, partially eaten by the 15-pound dog.

The woman was charged with negligent homicide. The dog was destroyed.

"I left the baby on the floor with the dog to protect it. ... The dog ate my baby," Joanne Bashold, 24, told police Monday when they arrived at her barren sixth-floor walkup apartment in Spanish Harlem.

Miss Bashold, who is unmarried and has lived on welfare since moving here from Willoughby, Ohio in June, was jailed overnight. She faced arraignment today in Manhattan Criminal Court.

The dog, a four-month-old female whose ribs protruded visibly, was destroyed for examination of its stomach contents to verify that it killed the baby. Police said the dog hadn't eaten for at least six days before the attack.

Schools across U.S. back in session

By The Associated Press

After a Labor Day weekend marked by a busing protest and a school bombing, students returned to classes today in Louisville, Ky. In three other large cities, schools opened with new moves toward desegregation apparently meeting little opposition.

Officials in Milwaukee, St. Louis and Omaha, Neb., predicted a peaceful first day with no demonstrations anticipated as they tried out plans to improve the racial balance of their classrooms.

There was some protest around the country among teachers — but over contracts, not racial integration.

In Buffalo, N.Y., on Monday night, teachers defying court injunctions voted by a 2-1 margin to strike and said they would picket all schools today. Classes for the city's 54,000 public school pupils were to begin Wednesday.

Teachers in Seattle and Tacoma, Wash., were scheduled to take strike votes today, and strike deadlines were set for later this week in districts in Oregon, Tennessee and Rhode Island.

A National Education Association spokesman said there could be more trouble ahead because more teachers' contracts remained unsettled than usual.

"Tight money and all of the factors which led to a record number of teacher strikes for the 1975-76 school year are the same," said Terry Herndon, association executive director. "And the incredible number of unsettled contracts — some 2,200 — could result in more strikes later if settlement is not reached."

In Louisville, the FBI helped investigate a Monday morning bombing

Use of civil defense funds cut sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is requiring states and localities to limit their use of federal civil defense funds to preparations for nuclear attack rather than for natural disasters such as floods, hurricanes and tornadoes.

The new requirement is a change in emphasis from the approach instituted in May 1972 by then-Defense Secretary Melvin Laird, which called for dual civil defense planning covering both natural disasters and nuclear attacks.

Although matching funds to state and local civil defense agencies will be limited beginning Oct. 1 to preparation for enemy nuclear attack, federally supported civil defense equipment and personnel can be used when natural disaster strikes.

The dual approach is being de-emphasized to cut costs, as indicated by the Ford administration's proposal calories, vitamins and minerals in a product; 41 per cent of the 1975 group said they paid attention to nutrition.

The number of people who paid attention to ingredient lists rose by five percentage points — from 42 per cent in 1973 to 47 per cent in 1975. Twenty-six

Americans bid summer farewell

By PAT SHERLOCK

Associated Press Writer

Union leaders marked Labor Day 1976 by recalling the crusaders of the early workers' movement, while politicians campaigned and many Americans celebrated summer's swan song by seeking sun at beaches and bargains at stores.

Warm temperatures and sunny skies that prevailed over most of the nation sent millions to the roads in their cars. The three-day death toll reached 476, 69 more than died during the same period last year.

The National Safety Council predicted from 260 to 460 deaths due to automobile accidents.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday in each time zone.

Last year, 407 persons died in Labor Day weekend traffic accidents. The worst Labor Day death toll was 688 in 1969.

A record $21,723,813 was pledged during the annual Labor Day Jerry Lewis Telethon Against Muscular Dystrophy, $2.9 million more than the Miss Bashold gave birth to the baby, Carra, at Bellevue hospital on Wednesday. Authorities said she told them her pregnancy resulted from a rape that she never reported to police.

She returned Sunday night to her two-room apartment. The only furniture was a wooden folding chair and a brown rug folded in half on which mother and baby slept. The dog slept nearby.

A welfare worker had promised to give her a crib today, she said.

On Monday morning, Miss Bashold said, she left the apartment alone at 7 a.m. to pick up some belongings from the hospital, including $20 in cash with which to buy food for herself, the baby and the dog. The refrigerator in the apartment was empty.

Neighbors in the tenement said later that as far as they knew, she wasn't friends with anyone in the building.

When she returned 1½ hours later, Carra was dead, her tiny body torn and her blood on the muzzle of the dog. Miss Bashold said she rushed down into the street to telephone police.

Stock list goes higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed higher today, continuing last week's rally.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up a fraction, and gainers took a 5-3 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Brokers noted nothing special in the economic news to influence the market strongly today.

They said investors, on balance, seemed to be hopeful that the market could show some post-Labor Day Strength after a very uninspired summer.

Gold stocks gained ground following the sharp rebound in European bullion prices Monday. ASA was up 1/4 at 16 3/4, Dome Mines rose 1/4 to 36 3/4, and Campbell Red Lake gained 3/4 to 18 3/4.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average climbed 4.32 to 989.11 to extend its gain for the week to 25.19 points.

Red pilot seeks asylum

TOKYO (AP) — Experts have looked over the Soviet MIG25 fighter plane flown to Japan by a defecting Soviet air force pilot, Japanese officials reported today. But they refused to say whether American intelligence officers had looked at the plane, reportedly the hottest in the Soviet arsenal.

U.S. authorities refused to comment, referring all queries to Washington. But it was assumed the Americans would get a thorough examination of the plane before the Japanese government returned it to the Soviet Union.

The Kyodo news service quoted Japanese officials as saying the pilot who landed the plane Monday at a small airfield in Hakodate will be transferred to the United States on Wednesday.

But police and Foreign Ministry officials said they knew nothing of plans to transfer the pilot, and the U.S. Embassy refused comment. Police say the pilot has asked for political asylum in America.

Police referred the pilot's case to the Hakodate prosecutor's office on six charges: violating Japan's immigration control law, firearms control law, and gunpowder law, intimidation, and two violations of the aviation law — flying too low and overrunning the runway.

Marijuana burned

COLUMBUS, Ind. (AP) — Police expected a large crowd of the curious — but instead, only three television crews from Indianapolis showed up for one of the biggest pot parties on record.

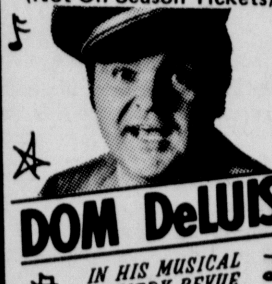

What the home viewers got to see later Monday was nearly two tons of high-grade marijuana going up in flames. Police Chief Fred Yentz tossed a match on 66 bags of the weed after evidence samples had been taken and the rest doused with gasoline.

The United Rubber Workers, meanwhile, announced a tentative agreement with B.F. Goodrich Co., which could end the longest rubber workers strike in history — 140 days today.

In Detroit, the Ford Motor Co. said it will make a new offer to the United Auto Workers. Current negotiations for a new three-year contract had stalled, and the strike deadline is Sept. 14.

For legislative leadership

Ohio State to honor Shoemaker

COLUMBUS — State Representative Myrl Shoemaker, chairman of the Ohio House of Representatives finance-appropriations committee, will be honored by Ohio State University for "outstanding legislative leadership" during a special ceremony Friday, September 10 in Columbus.

Shoemaker, a resident of Bourneville, represents Ross, Pickaway and part of Fayette County in the state legislature.

During the 11 a.m. cornerstone ceremony Ohio State University President Harold L. Enarson will present Shoemaker with a plaque reading, "Presented to Rep. Shoemaker in appreciation for outstanding legislative leadership in providing funds for the construction of The Ohio State University Hospital." Shoemaker authored House Bill 687 in the 111th Ohio General Assembly that provided the final $28 million necessary for completion of the $100 million medical complex at Ohio State.

President Enarson said, "As chairman of the House Finance Appropriations Committee, Myrl Shoemaker has demonstrated fairness, deep concern for the medical needs of all Ohioans, a high degree of understanding of the educational process and an outstanding spirit of humaneness."

The event will mark the beginning of construction for the last phase of the Ohio State University Medical Center. This phase, costing about $40 million will contain 362 new beds, a new emergency department, a 30 bed recovery unit, nine new operating rooms, eight new diagnostic X-ray rooms and many other new technological facilities.

The new facilities are expected to permit an increase in enrollment of freshmen medical students from the present beginning class number of 233 to 264 and even greater increases in nursing and the allied health medical programs.

In addition to his work as house finance-appropriations chairman, Shoemaker was a strong supporter of legislation that established in all of Ohio's medical colleges departments of family practice. These departments, provided by new additional state funds, under Shoemaker's leadership, are now educating far greater number of physicians to be primary care doctors — family doctors.

'Black Swamp' area last settled in Ohio

By The Associated Press

The last part of Ohio to be settled by any considerable number of people was the northwestern corner of the state.

West of the Sandusky River to the Maumee was the famed "Black Swamp," a marsh area about 40 miles wide and 120 miles in length. It included parts of such counties as Henry, Sandusky, Wood, Putnam, Hancock and Allen.

As late as 1830 only scattered settlements were found in the whole Maumee Valley. In that year Cleveland, now Ohio's largest city, was a small village of scarcely 1,000 people, compared to Cincinnati's population of 25,000.

Of Indian tribes in Ohio in 1825, according to census figures, there were 800 Shawnees, 551 Senecas, 542 Wyandots, 377 Ottawas and 80 Delawares.

The greater part of Henry County was covered by the Black Swamp, and when Historian Henry Howe first wrote of it in the 1840's it was still mostly covered by the swamp.

Howe wrote of the area: "It is at present thinly settled and has a population of about 50,000; but, probably, in less than a century, when it shall be cleared and drained, it will be the garden of Ohio, and support half a million of people. The surface is generally high and level, and sustains a dense growth of forest trees, among which beech, ash, elm, and oak, cottonwood and poplar, most abound. The branches and foliage of this magnificent forest are almost impenetrable to the rays of the sun, and its gloomy silence remained unbroken until disturbed by the restless emigrants of the West."

He noted that throughout the swamp area, a mile or two apart, were slight ridges of limestone from 40 rods to a mile wide, running usually in a westerly direction, and covered with black walnut, butternut, red elm, and maple. The top soil of the swamp was about a foot thick, and waters of the swamp contained a large quantity of sulphur. Once drained, the land area became one of the most valuable tracts in Ohio.

But isn't there a law

The unfolding scandal about the aerospace industry's huge corporate bribes, kickbacks and such has led many to ask, in effect: But isn't there a law against that? Lookheed, Northrop and others are involved. It is a fair question, given the millions of dollars they've spread around.

A Northrop Corporation spokesman advises that after looking itself over "the company feels confident that no evidence exists that would suggest a violation of applicable antitrust laws." Still, it seems just as well that the Federal Trade Commission has nevertheless decided to look into the matter.

Lockheed, biting the bullet, is

WASHINGTON CALLING By Marquis Childs

West Point at crisis point

WASHINGTON — The evidence is accumulating that the stubborn refusal of the authorities who govern West Point to make any adjustment in rigid rules shown to be unworkable is producing a crisis that may undermine this long-honored institution. The offer to allow 200 or more "cheaters" to return to the Academy after a year's absence is no more than a stop to public opinion.

It would serve no purpose at all. The returning cadets, presumably purged of their crimes, would have no standing in the eyes of their fellows. Furthermore, it is doubtful that they would elect to return following such a harsh experience.

The heart of the trouble is that the traditionalists, exemplified by Lt. Gen. B. Sidney Berry, superintendent of the Point, are so steeped in the past that they cannot or will not listen to those who understand the self-defeating nature of the so-called honor code.

One of these is Dr. Robert Moore, a former professor of English at the Academy, who recently testified before the Senate Armed Services sub-telling its stockholders that the FTC will "investigate whether Lockheed and others may... have engaged in any unfair methods of competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices." A legitimate area of concern, considering what's been heard thus far about corporate largesse to grease the wheels of competition.

scandal. Moore is co-author of the book, "School for Soldiers: West Point and the Profession of Arms," which is widely regarded as one of the most searching analyses of the educational system at the Academy.

His testimony was based on in-depth interviews with many of the principals on both sides of the conflict. He testified that in certain instances the rigid requirements of the curriculum seem almost calculated to make cheating inevitable.

One example he cited was the course in electrical engineering, a difficult course which, in the opinion of most cadets, has little relation to their future careers as Army officers. They are assigned a two-week, out-of-class exercise which they are required to complete without any collaboration with their fellows. But at the same time they are given an assignment in the same course called "a team project" which necessitates collaboration.

It is drawing a fine line to expect that with your roommate working on the same difficult project you would not exchange notes on the progress you were making. There would appear, Moore testified, that hundreds of cadets, perhaps as many as 400, apparently were guilty of collaborating on the home study exercise.

Because of the failure of leadership on the part of the academy officials, the public "has been given a tragically erroneous impression of this event which has needlessly slandered West Point as well as the implicated cadets." Berry and his staff were simply unwilling to concede any malfunctioning in an honor system with the goal of "duty, honor, country."

"It is simply not realistic to expect a proud, highly partisan, tradition-encumbered institution such as West Point to come clean on its own," Moore told the senators, on the basis of his teaching experience at the Point. "The pervasive feeling seems to be that it is more acceptable for a few hundred to perish than for the academy to run the risk of coming to terms with its institutional soul at this time."

Traditions have gone down with a resounding bang with the admission of women to the three service academies — air, army, and navy. This came about by an edict from Congress over the strong opposition of most military men.

At the risk of seeming to be a male chauvinist pig, this observer finds it hard to understand the role of women graduates of the military academies or their place in those academies.

Military policy still bars women from combat roles, although women entering the Air Force Academy this year may take flight indoctrination in their senior year just as male cadets do. They could then apply for the same postgraduate pilot training open to men except that the women would be trained for non-combat roles.

Would it have been wiser for Congress to have established a special training academy for women intending to enter some branch of the military service? They would not then have had to undergo the strenuous combat exercises of male cadets.

The stress on equality between the sexes has been carried to extreme lengths. One of the most absurd examples was the edict issued by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare proscribing father-and-son banquets at public school receiving HEW assistance. This was quickly scotched by President Ford who pointed to its absurdity.

There have undoubtedly been deep-seated injustices. That helps to explain the strong support for the Equal Rights Amendment. But the answer hardly seems to be brushing down all the barriers between the two sexes.

Boating laws updated

By TOM DIEMER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio boating laws were brought into line this month with the Coast Guard's "rules of the road" for inland waterways.

The new regulations are extensive and detailed, revising standards for life preservers, boat lights, sirens and registration tags. And drunken boaters or water skiers will now be judged by the same criteria that traffic cops apply to operators of motor vehicles.

A grace period has been provided by the Division of Watercraft to give boating enthusiasts a chance to adjust to the rules. Although the bill technically took effect last Friday, strict enforcement will not begin until the 1977 boating season.

"What we tried to do was eliminate two different sets of standards," said Rep. Frederick Deering, D-84 Monroeville, the sponsor of the statute. "This is a measure to improve boating safety in Ohio."

Deering, an Erie County turkey farmer, represents a shoreline district that extends from just east of Toledo to and including Sandusky. The law covers all inland waterways on the Ohio side of Lake Erie and the Ohio River where the state shares enforcement responsibility with the Coast Guard.

In addition to the do's and don'ts, the bill provides "good samaritan" immunity from civil liability to any boater for his actions in giving assistance at the scene of a watercraft accident. The exception would be for someone who willfully engaged in misconduct.

The law says law enforcement officers may determine drunkenness by testing for .10 per cent or more alcoholic content in a suspect's blood.

But there is a catch. The automobile driver who refuses such a test stands to lose his operator's license.

Drunken boaters who agree to submit to the test or those who are convicted of the offense on other grounds face up to six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Four different types of life preservers — the law calls them "personal flotation devices" — are prescribed for adults in boats, children, skiers and surfboard riders.

Watercraft divisions officials say the preservers will be labeled to indicate what is appropriate for various categories.

All sailboats under 65 feet must now have a red light on port side and a green light on starboard side. All sailboats, canoes, rowboats or kayaks must have a white light at the stern or a readily accessible lantern or flashlight. Two registration tags for each side of a boat will now be issued by the Chief of Watercraft.

Sirens on civilian boats are banned, except for emergency purposes.

about mom's smoking

DEAR ABBY: I am 8 years old and my name is Shelley Seibel. My Mom is 27 years old, and the reason I am writing to you is because my Mom smokes constantly.

Abby, please give me some suggestions as to how I can get her to quit smoking. I love my Mom and don't want her to die from lung cancer or heart failure at the age of 30.

WORRYING IN EVANS CITY, PA.

DEAR SHELLEY: What a beautiful daughter you are for being so worried about your Mom's health that you would write to me!

People who smoke "constantly" would like to quit, but they lack the strength. Perhaps when your Mom sees this and realizes how much you love her, it will motivate her to quit. I hope so.

Write to me again, Shelley, and let me know if my suggestion has helped. I care.

DEAR ABBY: Mac and I have been married for three years, and we went together for two years before that. He's a terrific husband in every way, but something has come up lately that bothers me.

Mac plays softball three times a week. I always enjoyed going to the park to watch him play, but now that we have a baby, I can't go so often.

One night, Mac said, "I wish you wouldn't come to so many games. You make me nervous."

He says he plays lousy when I'm there. Abby, I've been watching him for years and he never played lousy, and I never make him nervous before.

I got to thinking that another guy on his team tells his wife to stay home because she makes him nervous, but everybody knows he likes to flirt with other girls, and if his wife's around, it cramps his style.

One of my friends said, "Maybe Mac just wants a night out with the boys." Another one said, "I'll bet he just wants to fool around."

What do you think?

MAC'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Since Mac has to contend with an umpire during the game, he doesn't need another "ump" when it's over. His overall batting average as a husband is what counts.

Some "boys" like to mourn their defeats and celebrate their victories sans wives occasionally, so don't be too possessive or suspicious.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a college graduate, and I only graduated from high school.

My problem is the way he is always putting me down in front of people, calling me a "dummy" and "stupid."

I worked in a factory so he could finish college. I have considered taking some courses at the local college, but if I start now, it will take me six years to get a degree, and in six years I will be 38!

PUT DOWN

DEAR PUT: And how old will you be in six years if you DON'T go to college? Start now!

Rubber pact with Goodrich seen soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Labor Day gift to the tire industry — a new contract with B.F. Goodrich — was expected by union officials to be ratified this week, ending the longest rubber strike in U.S. history.

After two days of intensive talks in Columbus United Rubber Workers union and Goodrich negotiators produced a three-year agreement.

URW President Peter Bommarito said in Akron he expected the three-year pact to be ratified in votes today or Wednesday.

Union members struck the Big Four tire makers — Goodyear, Goodrich, Uniroyal and Firestone — on April 21. Goodyear and Firestone settled first and workers are back on the job. Uniroyal workers were prepared to vote on a new contract.

Harold Fast, Goodrich's labor relations director and chief negotiator, said the new agreement follows the basic economic pattern for the tire and rubber industry, established last month in Washington, D.C.

It calls for hourly wage increases of $1.35 over the life of the contract and includes a cost-of-living adjustment.

Fast said production at six plants—stalled when more than 9,000 workers struck—could resume as early as Thursday. He predicted tire prices would rise.

"There won't be any problem in the contract being ratified," said Bommarito. He said union negotiators unanimously recommended acceptance.

Bommarito said the agreement is similar to contracts for other tire makers "with the exception of correcting working condition abuses."

In addition, the tentative contract picks up 4.7 cents "carved out" of the 1973 pact. The money was taken out when Goodrich increased its pension contribution.

Goodrich and Uniroyal negotiations were hung up over the carve out money. The URW demanded 15.7 cents from Uniroyal.

"I think the company is being more realistic. It's a question of catch-up," Bommarito said.

Bommarito took part in Uniroyal negotiations, then flew to Columbus to speed talks with Goodrich on Saturday.

When the federal government decided it could not maintain the National Road it was turned over to the states by sections and in 1928 Ohio and Pennsylvania passed laws for maintenance and accepted completed portions in 1831 and 1934. —AP

New way with beans

BEANS AND FRANKS — This tried-and-true combination is especially good when it has a topping of French-fried onions.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

We've tried a good many ways of serving beans and franks in our years of testing recipes, but one of the quickest and most attractive is this new casserole combination. It brings comfort to the hungry, pleasure to the short-of-time cook and benefits to the budget. Serve a crisp salad and cheese bread with the casserole and offer red apples for dessert and you have a supper with welcome contrasting textures and excellent food values.

NEW BEANS AND FRANKS

1/2 small onion, finely chopped (about 2 tablespoons)

1/4 cup catchup

2 tablespoons prepared mustard

28-ounce can New England style baked beans

5 all-beef frankfurters (about 1/2 pound), each cut in thirds.

Scant cup French-fried onions (1/2 of a 3-ounce can)

In a 1-to 1 1/2-quart casserole stir together the chopped onion, catchup and mustard; stir in the beans. Bury the frankfurters in the beans. Bake, uncovered in a 400-degree oven until bubbling hot — about 20 minutes. Sprinkle with French-fried onions and continue baking until they are hot — about 1 minute. Makes 4 servings.

Note: The baked beans we used in testing this recipe are made with pea beans (they're small), pork, brown and white sugar, mustard and salt.

DR. and MRS. JOHN G. JORDAN

Local couple observes 60th wedding anniversary today

Retired dentist Dr. John G. Jordan, and his wife, the former Pearl Welty of 170 Carolyn Rd., are celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary today.

The Jordans, married on Sept. 7, 1916, in the parsonage of the Hillsboro Church of Christ, are the parents of two children: Mrs. Frank (LaVonne) Creamer and Dr. John T. Jordan, both of Washington C.H. They also have seven grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Creamer and family, and Dr. and Mrs. John T.F. Jordan, entertained at an "Open House" Sunday at the former's residence, in honor of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. John G. Jordan, who observed their 60th wedding anniversary recently.

The table was covered with a beige linen cloth with beige lace insertions and centered with a huge arrangement of yellow mums, carnations and roses in a white container, containing a gold ribbon bow with "60" on one of the streamers.

A two-tiered cake decorated with yellow roses and green leaves with "60" on the top layer, gold and pink mints, nuts and gold punch was served. The granddaughters Marilyn Creamer, Linda, Joan and Jennifer Jordan, Presided at the crystal service and served the cake. Lovely gifts were given to Dr. and Mrs. John G. Jordan.

Washington Garden Club meets at Hurtt home

The Washington Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Orville Hurtt, when the poem "Summer Woods" was read by Mrs. Robert Wilson, president, for the opening. Thirteen answered roll call by naming a preserved flower specimen she had dried. Each gave a donation to the public beautification and the Waukeena funds; also dues were collected. Renewal to the Ranger Rich magazine for the children's ward at Fayette Memorial Hospital was made by the group.

Mrs. Jean T. Craig reported on the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs Convention which she attended at Otterbein College, Westerville. She and Mrs. Thelma Hooks attended the program clinics, and Mrs. Dale Merritt and Mrs. Wilson the publicity clinics. Each made a report.

Mrs. Hurtt and Mrs. Merritt were appointed to audit the books. Members are to make 3-D pictures of birds for the Fish and Game Association for Sept. 26 at the shopping center.

Mrs. Wilson presented each with a ceramic shoe for her support during the past year. Installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Donald Meredith. She made a word flower arrangement as each officer was installed. The newly-appointed officers are Mrs. Gilbert Hooks, president; Mrs. Craig, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Cook, secretary; and Mrs. Hurtt, treasurer.

A bulb exchange was made and specimens of dried flowers were on display. Also of interest were dead bees and a large yellow jacket beehive, taken from the attic of Mrs. Herbert Dawes. Mrs. Dawes had an article concerning yellow jackets.

Winners of a contest conducted were Mrs. Olive Brookover and Mrs. Eulalia Wade.

Mrs. Hooks announced that members will make a field trip to Kingwood Center, Mansfield, Oct. 6, and all members are asked to meet at the home of Mrs. Jess Robinett at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Hurtt and Mrs. Dawes served refreshments. Favors for each were miniature baskets with dried flowers.

If the Shoe Fits..

By . . .
WES

"Boots, more sexy?"

A special shoe firm in New York believes that boots can give a woman's legs more beauty than any shoe, and they specially fit each client. To accomplish this, they will let boots out, or tuck them in, or design specially molded boots to make legs look thinner or fuller, if necessary. They advertise, "We can sculpt the lines of the boot to produce a sexier leg shape" (if that's what you are after). Perhaps this can be better accomplished naturally by proper exercise and nutrition. Plenty of brisk walking in correct shoes (also barefoot on grass or sand) will both strengthen and beautify the legs and feet.

'Suspicious act' blamed in $1,000 garage blaze

Washington C.H. firemen were summoned Sunday to a garage fire which reportedly resulted in a $1,000 loss.

The garage located at 340 Mount Olive Road, belonged to Eugene and Max Bush, 3422 Reynolds Road, and was totally consumed by fire, according to a Fayette County Sheriff's Department report.

Firemen were summoned at 3:09

a.m. Sunday to the fire scene and kept the blaze confined to the garage area, though they reported it was too late to save the building.

Firemen said that wooden materials in the garage had caught fire and the blaze had then spread to the rest of the building. A "suspicious act" was termed the possible reason for the origin of the fire.

Cooler air moves east

By The Associated Press

Cooler air moved into the northern Rockies and western portions of the Dakotas today following Labor Day's recordbreaking heat in the northern Plains, while many northern Atlantic states reported early-morning temperatures in the low 40s and 30s.

The record high for the month of September was broken Monday at Sioux Falls, S.D., with a reading of 104 and equaled at Williston, N.D., at 101.

Temperatures early today dropped into the 40s in most of the northern Rockies, while thundershowers were reported through Florida, the eastern half of the Gulf Coast and southwestern Texas. A few showers lingered in the Rockies.

Skies were generally clear through the northern two-thirds of the Atlantic Coast states, the Ohio Valley, the upper and lower Mississippi Valley and the central Plains. Partly cloudy to cloudy skies prevail elsewhere.

Showers and thundershowers were predicted to move from the Rocky Mountain region into the western Plains. Some thundershowers also were forecast for Florida.

Early-morning temperatures ranged from 33 at Philipsburg, Pa., to 86 at Pierre, S.D.

Coalition takes over in Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A coalition of moderate parties has moved into position to end 44 years of Socialist rule in Sweden.

With national elections scheduled Sept. 19, 51 per cent of those questioned in an opinion poll regarded as highly accurate favored the three non-Socialist parties — the Center party, the Conservatives and the Liberals.

The Social Democrats and the Communists who have helped them govern for the last six years got 47 per cent. The remaining 2 per cent was undecided.

"The percentages seem correct, and we could lose," said Bernard Carlsson, a Social Democrat spokesman.

The differences in the parties here are basically ones of degree — the Conservatives liken themselves to liberal Democrats in the United States — and no one is challenging the welfare state or Swedish neutralism.

"What we are offering mostly is a change of direction," said Lars Tobisson, secretary-general of the Conservative party. "Under the Social Democrats we've moved toward bureaucracy, concentration of power and out-and-out socialism."

"We would keep a market economy. We want greater freedom of choice for the individual and a change of atmosphere in the country. We all agree on the contents of our foreign policy, but there would be a change from what became a very abrasive style."

State convention eyed

During a recent meeting for the month of September, members of the Fayette County National Farm Organization (NFO) discussed plans for an upcoming state convention.

A total of 23 members attended the meeting conducted in the Staunton United Methodist Church fellowship hall, Staunton, which followed a dinner served by the women of the church.

Prior to discussion of plans for the October 2 NFO state convention, Fayette County chapter vice-president David Carr reported on an NFO state board meeting held Aug. 28 in Worthington.

The state convention will be held in the Neil House Motor Hotel, Columbus, and will feature Oren Staley, president of the NFO, who will be present during morning activities there.

The NFO Washington D.C. director, Charles L. Frazier, will be on hand to coordinate events throughout the day, local representatives said.

A banquet is scheduled to take place that evening, with Allen Skroch, national NFO hog division director, slated as the speaker.

Tickets for the noon meal and banquet during the convention may be obtained by contacting Mrs. William Burr at 426-6728.

Ohio food prices dip slightly

By JOE McKNIGHT
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eroding coffee prices were more than offset by declines in meat and potatoes in August and the Ohio Associated Press Marketbasket survey showed a two per cent drop over the month.

The monthly check of 16 grocery items in 17 cities came up with an average cost of $19.05 at the end of August, compared to $19.49 for the same items a month earlier.

By comparison, the same list of items cost $17.67 a year ago and $17.08 two years ago.

The cost of a three pound can of name-brand coffee rose another two per cent over the past month to an average of $5.87. It was the sixth consecutive month of rising coffee prices.

The decline in average prices may reflect a new element of competition for supermarkets as more so-called food warehouses opened up.

One such warehouse in Canton had 15 of the 16 items on the AP shopping list at a savings of 99 cents compared to three other Canton area supermarkets. The warehouse store did not stock the brands of peanut butter on the list.

Average cost of all red meat prices on the shopping list declined over the latest check period and chicken prices remained unchanged. The standard ten-pound sack of white potatoes declined 15 per cent over the month.

Average cost of the shopping list by item and per cent of change was:

Hamburger per pound 80 cents, down 1 per cent; chuck roast per pound 97 cents, down 3 per cent; whole frying chicken per pound, unchanged at 59 cents; center cut pork chops $1.69 per pound, down 6 per cent; half gallon of whole milk 74 cents, down 1 per cent; stick margarine per pound, unchanged at 56 cents; 12 ounces of peanut butter, unchanged at 68 cents; a dozen medium white eggs 79 cents, up 13 per cent; a four roll pack of toilet tissue, unchanged at 77 cents; one pound loaf of store brand bread, unchanged at 34 cents; five pounds granulated sugar $1.08, down 8 per cent;

Ten pounds of white potatoes $1.22 cents, down 15 per cent; three pounds of coffee $5.87, up two per cent; 49 ounce box of detergent $1.34, down .04 per cent; 14 1/2 ounce pack of chocolate chip cookies 97 cents, down 1 per cent, and a 12 ounce pack of frozen orange juice 64 cents, down four per cent.

Fresh produce began disappearing from grocery shelves. Fresh corn, where it was available, averaged $1.09 per dozen ears, down from $1.23 a month earlier. Fresh strawberries could be found in only one city at 89 cents a pint, up ten cents from the previous month.

Among the 17 cities checked Massillon had the lowest average price for the marketbasket at $17.09, up 4.9 per cent from the previous month. Toledo was next on the list at $17.35, down .04 per cent. The other cities, with per cent of change:

Canton $17.64, down 5 per cent; Fremont $18.15, down 7.7 per cent; Findlay $18.17, down 1.5 per cent; Conneaut $18.37, down 2 per cent; Van Wert $18.63, down 3.6 per cent; Salem $19.07, up 2.7 per cent; Youngstown $19.13, down 6.7 per cent; Steubenville $19.49, down 4.4 per cent; Columbus $19.58, down 2.3 per cent; Cleveland $19.81, up 3 per cent; Cincinnati $19.91, down 2.9 per cent; Akron $19.96, down 1.6 per cent; Chillicothe $20.31, down 2.9 per cent; Portsmouth $21.20, down 2.6 per cent, and Athens $21.34, up 3 per cent.

Woman seeks to conquer Everest

EVEREST BASE CAMP, Nepal (AP) Arlene Blum hopes to be the first American woman to climb Mt. Everest, but she says cancer research is more important to her.

"My research is very important to me, more important than mountaineering," said the 31-year-old biochemist from Berkeley, Calif., one of the two women in the 11-member American Bicentennial Everest Expedition.

Huddled in a tent as the snow fell on the base camp 11,500 feet below the peak of the world's highest mountain, Ms. Blum was reading over an advance copy of her article "Flame Retardant Additives as Possible Cancer Hazards." A runner had just brought it with the mail.

"My research on chemicals in the environment that may cause cancer is so satisfying," she said. "I think I can really help people this way. We spend so much money on trying to find cures for cancer but very little on the prevention of it. I really was reluctant to leave my work to come to Everest."

Earlier that day, draped with crampons, ice axe and a rope, and wearing a floppy zebra-striped sun hat, she returned delightedly from several hours of work in the Khumbu ice fall, the treacherous icy gateway to the world's highest peak.

"I love being there," she said, tired but smiling. "I'm really getting excited about climbing."

On the three-week march from Katmandu to the base camp, as she trudged up the slippery trails, Ms. Blum could be heard championing her favorite causes: legislation requiring that cigarettes extinguish quickly to reduce fire risk; regulation of chemicals in hair dyes and fabrics that may cause cancer; population control in developing countries where she has traveled and climbed.

And equality for women climbers. Ms. Blum is a strong believer in equal rights high up in the mountains, and daily there have been incidents that rattle the feminist in her.

Shortly after arriving at the base camp, the Sherpa guides asked for some climbers to accompany them to the base of the ice fall for a ceremony to the mountain deities. Ms. Blum was pointedly ignored when she offered to go.

She also felt slighted when she was not selected for the first two days of work to make the route through the ice fall. She finally managed to go on the second day.

But Ms. Blum feels herself to be an equal member of the expedition.

She is big — 5-feet-10 — and strong, has climbed higher before than any of the other Americans, and so far has stayed in good health, unlike some of the men who have been plagued by diarrhea and colds.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

The warning from the House of Representatives last week was strong, clear and unanimous—the Federal Government must get its records straight, and get rid of those it does not need.

The Number One "Pack-rat" in the country records everything and stores it all, just in case something might be needed sometime. By the time much of that which is stored away is actually needed, it cannot be found, because it is hopelessly buried or understandably forgotten.

Much of this federal record-keeping is unnecessary, and all of it is expensive—and getting more so by the day.

After years of avoiding the unpleasantness of examining the internal administrative waste, duplication and inefficiency which plague the giant federal bureaucracy, the House has roared its approval, 394 to 0, for better management of federal records and a reduction in the federal paperwork burden now borne so heavily by America's small businessmen.

They now spend $18 billion annually to fill out a raft of forms covering internal revenue, unemployment, health, accident, social security, and more.

The situation had become so bad and so threatening to the economic well-being of our nation's business community that Congress moved in 1974 to establish a Commission on Federal Paperwork. This short-term study group was instructed to examine rules and regulations relating to the federal government's information-gathering activities and to make specific proposals for eliminating excessive and repetitive forms.

Some of that excessive and repetitive record-keeping will undoubtedly be targeted by the Federal Records Management Amendments of 1976, just passed by the House.

No one can accuse Congress of moving too fast in this area. Records management legislation has not been updated in 25 years.

The magnitude of this record keeping is simply unbelievable. The volume of records stored in federal record centers, compared with the Washington Monument, would stand about twice as tall as the monument and would be a cube six times as wide.

As one member put it during House debate on the records bill, "It would take a file drawer stretching from San Francisco to Chicago, New York City to Salt Lake City, or Seattle to Dallas to hold all of these records."

Specifically the House bill authorizes the General Services Administration to help design more efficient records systems in all agencies and reduce the overall number of federal forms and duplications of forms. It establishes a systematic review of paperwork requirements. At present, well over 5,000 forms are sent out from Washington.

The best part is that savings from this long overdue legislation are expected to be from $150 million to $200 million a year. Since the present cost of records management in the Federal Government is an incredible $1 billion a year, $150 million would represent only 1 per cent of the cost.

Yet, if we save only 1 percent on the cost of federal record-keeping, we are talking about eliminating $150 million—plus instead of adding another $1 billion each year as we have been doing.

There is simply no excuse for permitting such inefficient systems to consume tax dollars that could be better used in so many other ways.

The House-passed bill is not the total answer to the problem, and it is not the total effort that will be made in reducing the cost and growth of government.

It is, however, an important step in the right direction, and it does commit the federal government to initiating reforms in the way federal paperwork is generated and managed.

Ex-defense chief arrives in Peking

TOKYO (AP) — Former Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger has arrived in Peking for a visit at the invitation of the Chinese People's Institute of Foreign Affairs, China's official Hsinhua news agency reported. Schlesinger, arriving Monday, was greeted at the airport by Ko Po-nien, vice president of the institute, and Lin Ping, director of American affairs in the Foreign Ministry.

The Japanese newspaper Asahi, meanwhile, reported that Schlesinger will tour Sinkiang province and Inner Mongolia, where Chinese troops are posted opposite Soviet units along the frontier. Sinkiang also is the site of China's atomic weapons testing grounds.

Asahi, quoting Chinese sources, said Peking wants to impress on Schlesinger the Soviet threat to China.

Leukemia carnival preparations open

Plans for the annual leukemia carnival Sept. 18 are entering the final stages.

Mrs. Leroy Crabtree, 343 Staunton-Jasper Road, who has watched the carnival grow from a backyard venture in 1974 to a community-wide effort this year, is the project coordinator.

Mrs. Crabtree's daughter, Julie Beth, wanted to sponsor a backyard carnival three years ago. A victim of leukemia, Julie Beth, who is 11, was the 1972 Ohio Leukemia Girl.

The response to the 1974 carnival was so great that in 1974 it was moved to Eymann Park. Successful again, the carnival will again be at the park and is to be even larger this year. Former Ohio Lt. Gov. John W. Brown will attend the carnival for the third consecutive year. He is now serving his last year as president of the Ohio

Leukemia Society.

CARNIVAL GAMES such as the penny pitch, darts and fish will be offered, but several special attractions have been added this year.

Live music will be furnished throughout the day. Thus far, at least three different groups, including the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Bicentennial Band, have agreed to perform.

An old-fashioned general store will be located in the Eymann Park shelter house. Clothes, dishes, and a wealth of items donated by area merchants will be offered for sale at old-fashioned prices, Mrs. Crabtree said. There will also be a variety of home-baked goods available.

Food can be obtained from several concessions. Robert L. Kunz, administrator at Fayette County Memorial Hospital, will add to his list of culinary credits by producing gourmet hot dogs as part of the cuisine. Suitably complimenting the hot dogs will be potato chips, popcorn, soft drinks and cotton candy.

WLW RADIO'S James Francis Patrick O'Neill will attend the carnival along with several (other) clowns. In fact, Mrs. Crabtree invites anyone who has been wanting to try their hand at clowning to don their makeup and give it a whirl.

A puppet show will be presented several times throughout the day. Miss Emily Engle, Show Hill Road, designs, builds, and directs the puppets as well as writing her own scripts.

There will be a fortune teller on hand to predict the future, and the Washington C.H. Jaycees will have their dunking machine to insure a playful present.

The carnival will open at 10 a.m. and will conclude at 5 p.m. so that everyone can attend the Offsides benefit football game. Pre-game festivities for the football contest are slated to begin at 5:30 p.m.

An Airstream travel trailer rally is being held at the Fayette County Fairgrounds the same day, and arrangements are being made to have a hay wagon make regular trips between the fairgrounds and Eymann Park. Mrs. Crabtree said persons attending the convention will be able to "hayride" to the carnival, stay a while, and then return to the fairgrounds.

The hay wagon may also take persons from the carnival to the football game in the late afternoon. The carnival is being sponsored by the Washington C.H. Area Community Education program and the Fayette County Night Owls Citizen Band Radio Club.

Mrs. Crabtree said area residents and local merchants have donated a tremendous amount of merchandise to be used as prizes, in raffles, and for sale.

High pressure remains in control over the Ohio Valley and the lower Great Lakes, bringing clear skies to Ohio through Wednesday.

A gradual increase in southerly winds was expected to bring a slow warming trend to Ohio today and Wednesday.

Early morning temperatures in Ohio ranged in the 40s and low 50s—well below normal for the date but above the record readings of Monday.

Highs today were forecast to reach the upper 70s to the low 80s with lows tonight in the 50s under clear skies. Mostly sunny skies Wednesday will be accompanied by highs in the upper 70s to the low 80s.

DOUBLE PLAY — Ohio Lottery Director Gerald J. Patronite is joined by Frank Duffy and Duane Kuiper, the Cleveland Indians' top double play combo, in signifying the start of the lottery's new $1 game, Double Play. Tickets went on sale today at more than 11,000 agents around the state.

Added dimensions provided

New lottery game sales open today

Ohio Lottery Director, Gerald J. Patronite announced that sales of a new $1 game, "Double Play", began today.

The game will add new playing dimensions for ticket holders. For the first time, players will try to match a winning number to a winning color. A number and color match will double the prize value, shown on the ticket. The ticket will provide nine chances to match the winning six-digit number with prize amounts of $7,000, $11,000 and $21,000. Should the player also match the winning color, prize amounts double to $14,000, $22,000 and $42,000.

Another new feature of "Double Play" is a separate bonus game for players who match the five-digit number. Winners are guaranteed a minimum prize of $5,000 and they enter a weekly pool from which three people will be selected to appear on television each week. Those selected for television will compete for prizes of $50,000, $25,000 and $10,000 in a separate playoff game.

Double Play also offers eight chances to win $20 by matching a three digit number. As with previous games, the $20 prize will be collected from any Lottery sales agent, and the larger prizes must be claimed at regional offices located throughout the state.

The first drawing of the Double Play game will take place on the September 16 weekly show. Contestants for the bonus game will begin to appear on the show September 30, 1976.

Double Play joins the current 50-cent lottery game, Pot O' Gold, on sale at more than eleven thousand agents around the state.

As in previous lottery games, Double Play tickets will be valid for one year after the drawing date printed on the ticket.

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — British Conservative party leader Margaret Thatcher, concluding a two-day visit to Pakistan, says her chances of becoming England's first woman prime minister are "not bad."

She made the statement at a news conference Monday following private meetings with Pakistani Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto.

Nation's highway toll reaches 476

CHICAGO (AP) — The death toll on the nation's highways for the three-day Labor Day weekend was 476, 69 more than died during the same period last year.

The number of fatalities exceeded the predictions of the National Safety Council, which had estimated that from 260 to 460 persons would die in automobile accidents.

The Associated Press count covered the period beginning at 6 p.m. Friday and ending at midnight Monday.

Last year, 407 persons died in Labor Day weekend traffic accidents. The highest number of deaths for a Labor Day weekend came in 1969, when 688 persons were killed on the roads.

Jeff Carter says marijuana no good

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Jeff Carter, 22-year-old son of Jimmy Carter, says that although he has tried marijuana "I don't recommend it to anybody."

Young Carter made the comment at a news conference Monday as he and his wife, Annette, joined Carter family members for the start of Carter's campaign in the South.

Jeff's mother, Rosalynn, disclosed in an interview last week that her three sons have smoked marijuana. Jeff told reporters, "I don't know why she said it. I kind of wish she hadn't."

While saying he does not recommend it, he said the laws against marijuana in some places are too severe and that authorities should be "more lenient" about it.

If his father is elected president, he said, "I think he'll try to decriminalize marijuana."

The Democratic presidential nominee has said before that he favors a modified form of marijuana decriminalization, with civil penalties for possession of small amounts.

GOAL LINE STAND — The Miami Trace Panthers had their backs to the wall during the first half of Saturday's preseason scrimmage with Milford. Here the Panther defensive line stops a quarterback sneak attempt on the five-yard line. The Panthers held and Milford settled for a 15-yard field goal. Play was halted with 9:42 left in the third quarter because of lightning and rain.

Oakland gains in AL West

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

Not all of the Oakland A's are running away from owner Charlie Finley. The green-and-gold clad gladiators are running at a record pace and making a race of the American League West Division.

Winners of five straight division championships, the A's have been running ever since Finley brought up a player whose only function was as a pinch runner.

Since then, pitcher Catfish Hunter has run to the New York Yankees, slugger Reggie Jackson has run to the Baltimore Orioles and several other players say they have shoes, will travel once the season ends.

Monday night, however, the A's were running in circles, something they have been doing consistently this season. Oakland swiped seven bases in their 11-inning 2-1 victory over the California Angels to run their season total to 297. That crumbles the old American League mark of 288 set by the 1913 Washington Senators. The National League record is 347 set by the 1911 New York Giants.

The victory moved Oakland to within six games of the West Division-leading Kansas City Royals, who suffered a 5-4 loss to Texas. The A's have picked up three full games on the Royals in their last eight games.

In other AL games Monday, Minnesota edged Chicago 3-2; Cleveland and Milwaukee split a pair, the Brewers winning the first 3-2 and Cleveland taking the nightcap 3-2; Detroit edged Baltimore 5-4 and New York nipped Boston 6-5.

Rangers 5, Royals 4

A run-scoring single by Toby Harrah capped a four-run ninth-inning rally to boost Texas past Kansas City. With Roy Howell on first, Joe Lahoud and Juan Beniquez lined back-to-back two-out singles, scoring Howell. Dave Moates' pinch double off Doug Bird, 11-8, made it 4-4. Harrah's gamewinning hit came off reliever Mark Littell.

Brewers 3-2, Indians 2-3

Dan Thomas' clutch double in the opener and John Lowenstein's hustle in the nightcap enabled Cleveland and Milwaukee to split a doubleheader. In just his fourth major league game, Thomas' ninth-inning double scored Darrell Porter to snap a 2-2 tie.

In the second game, Lowenstein scored from second base on a throwing error, lifting Cleveland to its victory. Lowenstein came home when Brewers catcher Charlie Moore grabbed a topped ball in front of home plate and threw wide to first. Home plate was left unprotected as Lowenstein sped all the way home.

Tigers 5, Orioles 4

Pinch hitter Ben Oglivie greeted reliever Tippy Martinez with a run-scoring single to snap a 4-4 deadlock and give Detroit its come-from-behind victory. Baltimore jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the first inning when Reggie Jackson doubled home for two runs and Ken Singleton smashed a two-run homer.

Yankees 6, Red Sox 5

Graig Nettles' three-run homer paced New York past Boston as Doyle Alexander picked up his 11th victory.

Pirates take two from Phils

Morgan leads Reds to win over Astros

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joe Morgan keeps talking up teammate George Foster for the National League's Most Valuable Player Award — but his bat keeps swinging the vote elsewhere.

The mini-sized Cincinnati slugger is looming large as only the second player in National League history to win back-to-back MVP awards.

Morgan, who appears headed for career highs in almost every department, established a career home run mark Monday night with his 27th of the season, a grand slam that spurred an eight-run inning as the Reds held on for a 9-8 victory over the Houston Astros.

While Foster slipped into a slump, Morgan's bat has come alive. The homer extended his longest hitting streak of the year to 17 games.

"I'm swinging the bat better than anytime in my life," said Morgan, who increased his batting average to .341, best in the National League.

The grand slam gave him 104 runs batted in for the season, 10 behind Foster, the major league leader. Morgan, the first second baseman in 26 years to drive in more 100 RBI, also has passed the century mark in walks and runs scored.

Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs was the only National Leaguer to win the MVP title two years in a row. He did it in 1958 and 1959.

"It is not my goal to win that," said Morgan. "I'm just going out to do my best for the team. I'm going to play the game the way I have always played it. I am not competing with anyone, least of all my teammates."

The victory was Cincinnati's eighth in the last 10 games, a timely upturn that came as the Los Angeles Dodgers cut a 13½-game lead to seven.

A freak fielding accident may be grounded Foster for a spell. He was struck in the eye when a ball caromed off the left field fence as he attempted a leaping catch in the seventh inning.

"There is no chance he will play Tuesday," said Manager Sparky Anderson. Foster was taken to Christ Hospital for x-rays.

The Philadelphia Phillies don't appreciate trips down memory lane, especially detours into 1964. But the Pittsburgh Pirates enjoy reviving the past, particularly the 1st two Septembers.

"We're a team that always excels in September," said Pittsburgh slugger Dave Parker after the Pirates raised their record to 7-1 this month with 6-2 and 5-1 victories over Philadelphia on Monday.

The Pirates, who won the National League East Division titles the past two years with sizzling Septembers, are threatening to bring the flag back to Pittsburgh again. They now trail first-place Philadelphia by 5½ games after being a distant 15½ games back on Aug. 24.

In 1974, the Pirates won 11 of their last 15 games to beat St. Louis by 1½ games. In 1975, Pittsburgh turned a one-half game lead on Aug. 17 into a 6½-game margin at the end of the season with a strong September.

September already has been the worst month of the year for the Phillies, who are 1-5 since the calendar dropped August. The suggestion has been raised that the 1976 Phillies are doing a good imitation of the 1964 Phillies, who squandered an 11-game late-season lead and were beaten to the wire by St. Louis.

But Dick Allen, a Philadelphia rookie 12 years ago, doesn't accept the comparisons. "The '64 club wasn't thinking about this club, and we aren't thinking about the '64 club," Allen said.

Philadelphia will not lose and Pittsburgh will not win today, a day off for both teams. The Pennsylvania pugilists square off again in Pittsburgh Wednesday night, carrying contrasting streaks onto the diamond. The Phillies have lost 10 of their last 11, while the Pirates have won 12 of 13.

Larry Demery pitched a fourhitter in the nightcap after Bruce Kison and Kent Tekulve combined on a six-hitter in the opener. The Phillies have scored 12 runs in their last eight games.

Mets 7, Cubs 4

Wrigley Field is not big enough for Dave Kingman and his baseball bat.

Kingman slammed his 34th homer of the year and his sixth in the seven games he has played in at the Cubs' home park. Kingman also powered a double and contributed three runs batted in to the Mets' victory.

Jerry Koosman, bidding for the first 20-game season in his nine-year career, picked up his 18th victory of the year. He has lost eight times.

Dodgers 4, Padres 1

Don Sutton fired a four-hitter and Steve Garvey had a homer, triple and a double, driving in two runs, to lead the Dodgers to their 17th victory in their last 20 games.

Cards 3-2, Expos 1-3

Pinch-hitter Earl Williams stroked a two-out, run-scoring single in the bottom of the ninth inning to give Montreal its doubleheader split. In the opener, the Cardinals scored three runs in the seventh inning to back Pete Falcone's four-hit pitching.

Giants 4, Braves 3

Rookies Jack Clark and Gary Alexander each stroked runscoring singles to lead San Francisco over Atlanta, moving the Giants a full game ahead of the last-place Braves in the NL West.

NFL announces annual victim list

Teams slash 120 from squads

By The Associated Press

It has happened so many times before: an assistant coach or an equipment man walks over to a player and says the fatal words, or merely points to the door of the head coach's office. No more needs be said; it's over. Quarterback Jim Del Gaizo wasn't pleased when he got the news from the Miami Dolphins, nor were Dallas running backs Ron Johnson and Duane Thomas, who found their comeback hopes submerged under a heavy rush of National Football League cuts. Big names and small, stars and non-stars were among the more than 120 victims on cutdown day.

Del Gaizo, contributing 25 completions in 40 attempts for 372 yards and three touchdowns to Miami's unbeaten preseason, was bitter. "I know this," he said, "there's no way this team would be 6-0 without me."

His reward, he added, was a kick in the pants. But there were many who joined him on the sidelines Monday as rosters were pared to their 43-man limit. Pittsburgh trimmed quarterback Terry Hanratty; Los Angeles dropped wide receiver Jack Snow; Washington waived defensive end John Matuszak; San Diego sacrificed kicker Bruce Gossett, and Minnesota did likewise with veteran running backs Dave Osborn and Oscar Reed and defensive back Pete Athas. The New York Jets dropped backup quarterback J.J. Jones.

Thomas, known in the past for moodiness, had come to the Cowboys' camp with a new image and hopes of earning a job on the team with which he started his career six years ago. Johnson, who played out the option year of his contract with the New York Giants last season and signed with Dallas, twice has gained over 1,000 yards in a season.

In some cases, there were words of regret by the people who made the moves. "It's a sports tragedy when a player of Jack Snow's caliber is released," said Rams General Manager Don Klosterman, who called the 33-year-old Snow "a brilliant receiver in the tradition of Elroy Hirsch and Tom Fears."

There is no way the St. Louis Cardinals can get defensive end Walt Patulski back for this season. He and four teammates were placed on the injured reserve list for the campaign.

The New England Patriots picked up wide receiver Marlin Briscoe from Detroit in exchange for a future draft choice. San Diego acquired placekicker Toni Fritsch from Dallas through the same route, then cut wide receiver Dwight McDonald and safety Maurice Tyler.

In other major moves, Kansas City cut veteran defensive back Jim Marsalis; Detroit dealt quarterback Bill Munson to Seattle for a draft choice; Chicago cut former All-Pro wide receiver Bob Grim, and the Giants cut backup quarterback David Jaynes and kicker George Hunt.

NFL preseason games over for gridders

By The Associated Press

The records show that the Los Angeles Rams and Miami Dolphins finished the National Football League preseason with 6-0 records, and that the Philadelphia Eagles and Houston Oilers finished with exactly the reverse. But now-departed Miami quarterback Jim Del Gaizo put the statistics in perspective.

"I guess the record and 15 cents will get me a cup of coffee," he said Monday after the NFL had completed its final week of preseason play and he had been placed on non-recall waivers.

"Sure I'm disappointed about not winning any preseason games," added Oilers Coach Bum Phillips, "but the season starts next week and that's what is important."

The Dolphins closed their exhibition campaign with a 20-7 triumph over the New Orleans Saints Saturday night, with Bob Griese and 42-year-old Earl Morrall doing the signal calling.

The Rams trimmed San Francisco 10-3 to keep their perfect record intact, with defensive back Monte Jackson scoring the only Los Angeles touchdown and intercepting a fourth-quarter pass to break up a 49ers drive.

In the other Saturday night games, Dallas topped Houston 26-20 in overtime; Cincinnati downed Tampa Bay 24-13; Pittsburgh clubbed the New York Jets 41-6; Oakland beat Seattle 45-28, and San Diego trimmed the New York Giants 14-13.

Sunday, New England handed Philadelphia its sixth loss, 20-7 and Denver clipped Minnesota 30-17. Friday night, Buffalo bested Cleveland 28-10; Chicago nipped Washington 9-7; Atlanta outscored Green Bay 27-6 and St. Louis downed Kansas City 31-14.

Bengals cut seven

CINCINNATI (AP) — Clearing the way to make room for 11 rookies, the Cincinnati Bengals traded third-year running back Charlie Davis to Tampa Bay Monday for future draft considerations while cutting five veterans and two rookies to reach the National Football League's 43 man squad limit.

The Bengals waived veteran fullback Ed Williams, offensive lineman Al Krevis, defensive lineman Maulty Moore, tight end Jack Novak and punter Dave Green.

The two rookies cut were defensive back Danny Reece of Southern California, a No. 3 draft choice, and quarterback Bob Bateman of Brown.

Jack wins World Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus says the World Series of Golf is no longer a mere television show.

"The old World Series was always a challenge, knowing you were playing the other players who had (made) the Majors," said Nicklaus after winning the first revamped Series Sunday with a five-under-par total of 275 at Firestone South.

"But you didn't have the atmosphere of a golf tournament. You had the atmosphere of a television show," said the man who won four of the old Series, 36 holes in two days for $50,000 first prize.

"The new tournament has the air of all the players. It's something significant and special when you get that air. It makes you play harder," he added.

His rivals would agree Nicklaus played hard in the four days of the new Series, whose field was increased fivefold and purse quadrupled to $300,000. Nicklaus won $100,000.

In 24 appearances in the Series, Nicklaus has won a total of almost $490,000.

Of the first tournament with the new qualifying, he said, "We started off with a good one. We had a representative field of world golf."

Hale Irwin, the $50,000 runnerup with 279, echoed Nicklaus' sentiments.

"I think the World Series as we now have it is a great improvement. We have most of the best players. For the first year, it's been highly successful," said Irwin.

Outspoken Dave Hill, who earned $20,000 for finishing third with par of 280, added, "It's a nice tournament, but I have to think of it as a glorified Tournament of Champions. It's an honor to play in the Series."

Not one of the other players invited this year criticized it.

Nicklaus now has a chance to match Hubert Green's feat earlier this year of winning three straight tournaments. He will play in the World Open beginning Thursday and the Ohio Kings Island next week.

The 36-year-old blond belter now has career earnings of more than $2.8 million and 60 official tournament victories. He ranks first on the all-time money list and No. 4 in tournament triumphs behind Sam Snead (84), Ben Hogan (62) and Arnold Palmer (61).

His largest payday as a golf pro pushed his 1975 earnings past $261,000, tops on the tour this year. He moved around previous leader Ben Crenshaw.

Irwin's $50,000 here moved him over $241,000 and up one spot to third place. Crenshaw is third with almost $225,000.

Nurses' Leader Wants Group's Voice Heard

By JANE SEE WHITE
NEW YORK (AP) — The new president of the American Nurses' Association isn't interested in talk — she wants to see some action.

At 61, Mrs. Anne Zimmerman has 21 years as executive administrator of the Illinois Nurses' Association behind her. She has some clear ideas about changes she wants to see made.

"I think we've got to be more aggressive about seeking an opportunity to have a meaningful and authoritative voice in decision-making in national health policy," Mrs. Zimmerman said here recently. Mrs. Zimmerman came through New York en route to her Chicago home after the conclusion of the ANA biennial convention in Atlantic City, N.J.

It's fine for the ANA to take positions on health policies and issues, she said, but those positions must have an impact.

For instance, she said, "we couldn't influence the Medicare regulation that allows uncensored personnel to give medication in some circumstances, and I think it's no use to have a national pronouncement on our position if it doesn't change anything."

That means the ANA will do more lobbying while Anne Zimmerman is president, she said, both with elected officials and with the bureaucrats who write health care regulations.

And that means the ANA will seek to increase its membership — now at about 200,000 registered nurses — to bring in more of the approximately one million nurses in this country.

And she will make an effort to raise the collective political consciousness of her membership, she said.

"I hope we'll take positions on candidates, work for candidates, and I would even encourage our members to seek office themselves," Mrs. Zimmerman said.

A registered nurse, Mrs. Zimmerman has spent only nine years of her career in nursing — but she has served as executive director of the Montana Nurses' Association and the California Nurses' Association.

She will take a leave of absence from her Illinois post during her two-year term as ANA president, she said.

An ANA dues increase will make it possible for the organization's professional staff to be expanded, she said, and for the first time this year, the president will be compensated.

She will seek to cooperate with other professional health groups — such as the American Medical Association — in shaping national policy on some issues, she said, but she believes nurses should be able to have impact standing alone, as well.

"We have numbers, we have education, we have status and we have an obligation to influence national health policy," Mrs. Zimmerman said. "We've got to strengthen ourselves and do it."

Carter sets trip to aid Metzenbaum

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP) — "He's coming for me. It's my dinner," Democratic senatorial nominee Howard Metzenbaum said during a break in Barberton's Labor Day parade.

He was talking about Jimmy Carter's visit to Cleveland Wednesday for a fund-raising dinner. But indirectly he also was referring to the importance of a strong Carter showing to Metzenbaum's chances of beating Sen. Robert Taft, R-Ohio.

At the parade, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, Carter's running mate, kicked off the traditional start of the presidential campaign season by attacking the Republicans for allowing high inflation and high unemployment to continue.

Taft said he too was against unemployment. They both got applause from residents of this blue-collar town which boasts that more than half of its 35,000 residents are employed in industrial jobs.

Actually, it was the continuation and not the beginning of the presidential campaign. Mondale already has made a 9-day campaign swing across the country during which he visited Dayton.

At the end of the parade, which drew an estimated 50,000, all the candidates sat on a podium waiting to be introduced. There was Mondale next to Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, next to Taft next to Metzenbaum.

They were all gracious to each other when they were introduced and for the moment the crowd in effect was asked to forget the bitter Glenn-Metzenbaum senatorial primary race or the previous Metzenbaum-Taft confrontation.

The bidding:

West North East South
Pass Pass 4♣ 6♦
Pass Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead — four of clubs.

The ability to visualize how the opponents' cards are divided has a great deal to do with how well declarer fares in a given hand. Consider this deal where South distinguished himself in the play and brought home a well-deserved slam.

South made a good decision when he overcalled East's four club bid with six diamonds. It was not what could be characterized as a scientific bid — South had no way of knowing whether he would make six diamonds, seven diamonds, or go down one — but it seemed to him, on balance, that six diamonds was a good shot.

West led the four of clubs, obviously a singleton. South won with the ace, cashed the A-K of diamonds, and exited with the three of diamonds!

West was pleasantly surprised to win a trump trick unexpectedly with the jack, but his joy was short-lived. It didn't matter what West played next. A heart return would give declarer two discards on the A-K of hearts; a spade return would give declarer access to dummy and produce the same result.

So South made six diamonds because he was clever enough to lose a trump trick that he didn't have to lose. He would have gone down one, assuming correct defense, had he not played the hand the way he did.

The unusual low trump play was sure to succeed. Declarer realized that West would be forced to lead either a spade or a heart after winning the trump trick, because West could not have another club to lead. In effect, East's opening four club bid boomeranged, the slam because it made the slam easy to bid, but because it pointed the way to the winning play.

So what's normal. We always think of the 50 millimeter, or maybe the 55, as being the normal lens on the 35 millimeter camera. But is it? According to formula, the normal lens should have a focal length equal to the diagonal of the negative, and my pocket calculator, with some help from Mr. Pythagoras, comes up with a value of about 43 millimeters for this figure.

There are lots of artistic lensesmen who figure a 90 to be normal for them. Stu Gossard would fall into this group, as would Marty (she's my boss), and Dale Wade felt that he did his best shooting with the 90 millimeter. Then there's even more of us, me and Howard Miller as examples, who use the 135 millimeter lens far more than all other lenses taken together. Wouldn't that make the 135 standard for us?

A few years ago some psychologist came up with the idea that you could tell a lot about a guy by his choice of lens. According to this character the photographer who showed a preference for the longer lenses tended to be more the introvert, as opposed to the extrovert who used the shorter lenses and moved in close. Gee, I don't know, he might have a point there. But from where I sit it would seem that there is a need for all these focal lengths in the bag of the pro, or the amateur who expects to properly cover all situations. At the CKEF classes starting soon we'll go into the art of selecting the proper lens for the job. This is another interesting area in the art of photography.

Two cows killed near New Holland

No injuries in nine holiday mishaps

No injuries were reported by area law enforcement agencies during nine traffic accidents investigated over the Labor Day weekend in Fayette County.

However, Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported that two cows which had wandered onto the White Road were killed by a New Holland motorist at 2:35 a.m. Saturday.

Traveling north on the White Road, a car driven by Donald A. Davis, 18, of New Holland, was reportedly unable to stop in time to avoid striking two Angus cows that were on the roadway just south of the Cisco Road.

The cows had belonged to Harvey R. Hart, 2099 White Road. The car was moderately damaged.

Washington C.H. police officers investigated an accident apparently caused at 4:35 p.m. Friday when a five-year-old child gained control of a motor vehicle.

Jerry L. Shelpman, 5, of Midland, reportedly went inside of a car belonging to Anita S. Shelpman, also of Midland, as the car was parked in a driveway on the 1100 block of E. Paint Street.

At some point later, police officers said, the youth pulled the automatic shift out of the park position, causing the car to roll down the driveway and across the street.

The car struck a parked car belonging to Clarence Newland, 228 Water St., and slight damage to the parked car was the result of the accident.

POLICE

SUNDAY, 7:43 p.m. - Donald Johns, 727 Willard St., told police officers that while his truck was parked in front of his residence, it was struck by a pickup vehicle. Police officers later determined that the vehicle had been a car driven by Gary W. Pate, 20, of Sabina, and he was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and reckless operation. A damage estimation was not listed.

SUNDAY - Dorothy L. Pierson, 321 E. Temple St., told police officers that her car was struck and slightly damaged by a pickup vehicle sometime Sunday while parked in front of her residence.

SATURDAY, 7:30 p.m. - Ricky A. Thomas, 24, of 825 Leslie Trace Court, reported to police officers that while he was traveling east on Columbus Avenue, his car was struck by a car driven by Betty R. Robinette, 48, of 1000 Bush Road.

Ms. Robinette, who said she did not see the car, had been attempting to turn left from westbound Columbus Avenue into Ev's supermarket. Her car was slightly damaged, while the other car was moderately damaged.

SATURDAY - Judith Jennings, 133 Eastview Drive, told police officers that sometime Saturday, her car was struck and moderately damaged by a pickup vehicle, as the car was parked in front of her residence.

SATURDAY, 12:38 a.m. - Austin Miller, 611 Willard St., informed police officers that his car was struck by a pickup vehicle and moderately damaged while it was parked just east of Columbus Avenue, on Willard Street.

SHERIFF

SATURDAY, 9:45 p.m. - Cars driven by Larry E. Althouse, 27, of 238 Ohio Ave., and Chester T. Steed, 42, of Orient, were northbound on CCC Highway-E. As the first car was attempting to turn left onto the Dickey Road, the Steed car reportedly passed Althouse's vehicle on the left, striking it in the left side.

There was moderate damage to the Althouse car, and Steed was charged with improper passing.

SATURDAY, 8:40 p.m. - A car driven by Thomas E. Lyons, 68, of 200 Curtis St., was northbound on North Street, when it reportedly traveled left of center and struck a vehicle proceeding south on North Street.

The second vehicle was a truck driven by Wanda K. Woods, 23, of 628 Delaware St., and both vehicles incurred moderate damage. Lyons was charged by sheriff's deputies with an expired license citation.

Quads note 4th birthday in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — There won't be too much leftover cake today as the four Deddens sisters celebrate their second birthday.

Quadruplets Amy, Molly, Patty and Katie will mark the occasion with lots of help from 4-year-old sister Darcy.

The quads were born Sept. 7, 1974 at Kettering Medical Center by Caesarian section. There will be a party and the usual hoopla around the quads today, but exact plans have not yet been made according to their mother, Ruth Deddens, 28.

Whatever the plans are, they will include older sister Darcy. The parents say they make special efforts to assure the quads don't steal all the attention. Mrs. Deddens says Darcy, who just began nursery school, helps take care of her little sisters. And they can be a handful.

Watching the five girls scurry about the yard and scramble onto tricycles, Robert Deddens stretched out his arms and sighed. "We're the luckiest people in the whole world."

"We have to lay all the chairs down so they won't climb up and swing on the chandeliers," joked the 35-year-old Dayton attorney.

The parents said the girls already have become little individuals: Molly is the climber; Katie is affectionate and either very happy or very sad; Patty is a thinker who usually stays to herself; and Amy mothers the other three.

The toddlers have their own room, which is referred to as "wall to wall cribs."
